Pay Issue Touches Off 'Fireworks'

Police, Firemen 'Sit Tight'

Lack of Funds Creates Problem

By SHELDON BINN

The Mansfield police and firemen's salary increase, approved by voters Nov. 2, touched off "fireworks" at the city building today as the pay period approached.

The confused issue developed over the question of whether to pay the increases which presumably went into effect Dec. 3.

Under the law, the salary increases provided in the ordinance were to be in effect with the Dec. 15 pay checks. The city pays its employes twice a month. Checks are now being prepared.

The smoldering issue broke into flame when Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison approved the first half of December's payroll for police and firemen under the old wage scale and forwarded it to City Auditor Paul L. Kelley.

In answer to a question by a News-Journal reporter, Garrison said he approved the payroll without the increases because he had received no instructions to the contrary from city council. Under law, Garrison is the only official who must approve payrolls and council need not take any action in the matter.

Garrison then reconsidered and decided to call the city solicitor and several councilmen for their opinions.

COUNCIL DIVIDED

One councilman told him not to change the payroll and continue to pay under the old schedule. Two others said he should abide by City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch's decision.

Garrison said Kalbfleisch told him that under the law he should get the payroll back from City Auditor Kelley, who prepares the pay checks, and revise it to include the new pay scale.

Today, however, Garrison decided to get a legal opinion in writing from Kalbfleisch before he moves to have a new payroll drawn up.

Kalbfleisch, describing the issue as "confused," said he didn't know yet exactly what legal question Garrison wanted answered and therefore could not say anything.

Apparently the question of whether or not to cancel the payroll already delivered to the auditor and draw up a new one will not be decided until Kalbfleisch prepares his written legal opinion on the matter.

Meanwhile, the city's police and firemen, who won the voters' approval of their pay increase bid, were "sitting tight," awaiting developments.

What actually caused the confusion seems to be the matter of where the money is coming from to pay the increases. Under the appropriation bill passed in January, there is enough money appropriated to pay the increases to city police and firemen for the first half of December.

TRANSFER NEEDED

However, to pay the increases for the second December payroll, council must hold a special meeting to transfer funds from the general fund to the proper classifications.

Even if Garrison should decide to withhold payment of the wage increase for the present, council would still have to hold a special meeting.

Kelley said there is not enough money in the police and firemen's salary fund to pay the second December payroll even under the present rates.

Under the salary ordinance passed by the voters, police and firemen's salaries were raised from $230 to $300 a month. Raises in other ranks were comparable, the chiefs' wages going from $275 to $400 a month.

Buy CHRISTMAS SEALS

Mailing Rush Gets Late Start

Mansfield's Christmas mailing rush is off to a late start.

The holiday mail business has been lagging, but Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford expects a record mailing jam to get under way next week.

He predicted the Christmas business will exceed the 1947 total when nearly a million letters and cards were mailed during the seven-day peak period.

Tomorrow the post office will begin handling incoming parcel post at the Armory to ease the pressure at the post office building.

Beginning Sunday noon, all parcel post for local distribution will be taken directly from trains to the Armory for processing and delivery.

No parcels or other mail will be mailed from the Armory. Mansfielders will continue to mail packages and letters at the post office.

Three eight-hour shifts will go into effect at both the Armory and the post office beginning Sunday and continuing until Christmas.

BORROWS 10 TRUCKS

The post office has borrowed 10 extra parcel post trucks from the Naval Reserve unit, the Ohio Air National Guard unit, the Richland county highway department, and the state highway department.

Fifteen trucks will be delivering parcel post during the rush period. At the present time there are eight parcel post trucks in service. There also will be two trucks on the mounted route instead of the usual one.

Resume Pact Conferences

Peace Alliance Moving Ahead

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The seven powers discussing the projected North Atlantic Alliance were reported planning today to have the pact ready for congress early next year.

Negotiations on the proposed pact were resumed yesterday at the state department.

The envoys of Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands conferred for more than an hour with acting Secretary of State Lovett.

The Europeans brought with them papers, representing the product of several weeks work in London by their representatives.

This working draft was said to provide:

1. An international alliance whereby each participant would come to the aid of the other were any member attacked.

2. A schedule of the military requirements of each of the European countries plus the amount each could supply and the amount expected from the United States and Canada.

Visits Jail At Precisely Wrong Time

Monte Glover drops in at the county jail every once in a while just to chat with the deputies. He became acquainted with them some time ago while inside the bars.

Yesterday Glover dropped in at the wrong time. The deputies promptly invited him to step behind bars again. They had just received a capias from common pleas court to apprehend Glover for violation of probation.

Probation Officer Ralph Hughes said Glover, who lives at 390 Marshall avenue, was placed on probation for five years, in July 1947, after he pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons. Glover is now charged with failing to report to the court.

A hearing has been set for next week.

Release 'Pumpkin' Papers

U. S. Secrets To Be Bared

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional investigators prepared today to release a dozen of the secret papers which, they claim, prove a Red spy ring operated in the state department a decade ago.

Members of the House Un-American Activities committee say while the documents may appear innocent enough now, they mention military and diplomatic secrets which once would have been invaluable to Russia.

And they say the documents—scheduled for release tonight—would have enabled the Soviets to crack the codes in which American diplomatic messages were sent.

The 10-year old papers came from former communist agent Whittaker Chambers. He produced one out of a pumpkin shell hiding place on his nearby Maryland farm. The others he has offered in defense against a libel suit.

Chambers has testified under oath that he got some papers for relay to Moscow from Alger Hiss and Henry Julian Wadleigh, former state department officials.

He has testified, too that Mrs. Hiss copied some of the originals on a typewriter.

UNEARTH CLUES

The committee's acting chairman, Rep. Mundt (R-SD), told reporters investigators have unearthed some "very good clues" about a type-writer. He said they have a good chance of locating some letters which would show whether they came from the same machine that produced copies of state department papers.

The committee set its next meeting for Monday noon. Whether it will be open or closed or if there will be any witnesses, was not known.

The house group had summoned Hiss and his brother, Donald, for questioning this morning. But it excused them until some time next week because a New York grand jury investigating espionage wants to quiz them.

Rule Death Accidental

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — Clark County Coroner Austin Richards said today that the death of seven-year-old John Smith, found hanging by a leather strap in his Ohio home Wednesday, was "accidental."

Investigation revealed that the boy's hands were tied 15 inches apart with a sashcord clothesline.

Although the boy's wrists were lacerated, the coroner said the ropes had not been tied tightly enough to gouge the flesh deeply. He said the knot was fashioned crudely and "not tight," leaving the boy's arms free to hang at his side.

Relatives of the child from Urbana said the Springfield boy was continuously "playing cowboy." They said he frequently tied himself up and showed how he could get loose.

Seek Lone Bandit

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Arthur Bolt, 30, told police yesterday a lone bandit kidnaped him, beat him and then robbed him of a $1,700 printing concern payroll. The bandit escaped on foot after forcing Bolt to drive away in his own truck, police were told.

Emilio was fatally injured when struck by a truck as he darted from the bus in San Antonio, Tex. He is placed on a stretcher, still clutching the unfinished letter.—(AP Wirephoto)

Brighten a Christmas

Sight Restored As Gift of Yuletide!

One of the happiest women in Mansfield today is the 63-year-old widow whose name was listed in Friday's "Brighten a Christmas" story in the News-Journal.

For several years her eyesight has been failing as a result of cataracts, and a short time ago she underwent an operation for removal of the growths. Friday she was taken to the office of the doctor who performed the operation, for removal of the bandages.

Slowly the tears rolled down her cheeks as she heard the news that she would no longer be nearly blind. The operation had been a success, and with the proper glasses she would be able to see again.

Her spirits soared even higher as the friend who had accompanied her to the doctor told her how a generous Mansfield woman, who was familiar with the situation, had made arrangements to purchase the glasses for her

Then the doctor, a prominent Mansfield eye-specialist, gave her one of the nicest Christmas gifts she could have asked for. When she inquired about making payments for the operation from her small pension, he handed her the bill on which the notation had been made in his handwriting, "Pail in full, Merry Christmas"!

This will truly be the happiest Christmas she has ever had in life.

This is only one example of the generosity of Mansfield people to their less-fortunate neighbors

Since the beginning of the "Brighten a Christmas" program, which the News-Journal and Salvation Army are sponsoring this year, many incidents have been revealed that prove the spirit of true brotherly love prevails.

FAMILY ADOPTED

A Mansfield veterans' organization has "adopted" the mother and four children who were described in Thursday's News-Journal story. For the first time since their father died 11 years ago, they will have the kind of Christmas they have dreamed about. The 11-year-old boy will have a bicycle, through the generosity of an east side family. There will be sufficient warm underclothing for all the children and a big Christmas dinner from the veterans.

A woman who recently lost her husband in an accident has been assured that her four children will have new clothing and toys, as well as a fine Christmas dinner provided by a local sorority.

A thirteen-year-old boy, whose mother has been confined to a mental institution for several years, and whose father is ill with an incurable disease, is going to have a nice bicycle for Christmas. It will be given him by the sorrowing mother of a young boy who was accidentally killed a short time ago in a hunting accident.

A small family will find a chicken centering the table when they sit down to Christmas dinner, provided by a woman who lives on a farm near Bellville

If you, too, would like to "Brighten the Christmas" of some deserving family, call Mrs. Margaret Mattox at the News-Journal, 4251-6, any day except Sunday, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Plane Crash Claims Two

FRANKFURT—(UP)—Two persons were killed and three injured early today when a Navy C-54 on the Berlin airlift run crashed 10 miles northeast of Wiesbaden, air force officials announced today.

The plane was carrying a crew of three and three passengers. Those killed were the crew chief and a passenger. Their names were withheld temporarily.

Most seriously injured was the co-pilot, Ensign George H Blackwood, San Angelo, Tex., who suffered a broken leg. The pilot, Navy Lt Joseph L. Norris, Lexington, N. C., received minor injuries.

One of the passengers, air force hostess Diana Day, San Francisco, also received minor injuries.

Cold Eases In City Area

Mercury Rises After Dip to 16

The mercury fell to the lowest mark of the season here early today, but the weatherman said warmer weather was on the way—and would remain for a few days.

The low came at 6 a. m. today when the temperature read 16 degrees. However, it soon began to rise and was 12 degrees higher by noon.

The rise was to continue, the weatherman said. The low for tonight is expected to hit 30 while for tomorrow the temperature will be near the 40-mark.

Rain tonight or tomorrow is expected to wash away the light snow which fell yesterday. There may be some light snow, however, in the extreme northern part of the state.

A recurrence of yesterday's cold snap isn't expected for another two days. The mercury may take a dip by Tuesday or Wednesday, the weatherman prophesized.

Roads in northeast Ohio were reported slippery in spots but all were passable.

Youngstown reported a low of 12 degrees, while Zanesville's low was M.

Youngstown had the heaviest snowfall, .10 of an inch. In Mansfield, the amount of snow was .02 of an inch.

Doomed Youth Sees Fondest Wish Granted

NEW YORK—(INS)—Christmas came early today for Sammy Murray, who is nine and may not live until Dec. 25

Sammy's fondest wish—for a movie projector—has come true, fulfilled by an anonymous donor who read of his fight against cancer.

Sammy couldn't have had it otherwise, for such an expensive gift was far beyond the means of his father, a $40-a-week bookkeeper temporarily employed by the board of transportation.

Jaycees to Provide Six Skating Ponds In City

Work on an ice skating pond at the Fairground, large enough to accommodate several hundred boys and girls, will be started next week if the weather permits, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the project, announced today.

The skating pond is the No. 1 project of the Jaycees in their "Best Is Yet to Come" program for Mansfield. The Jaycees hope to provide at least five other ponds later.

Meeting with representatives of the county fair board and city officials yesterday, a Junior Chamber committee marked off a wide area at the Fairground which will be transformed into a four-inch deep pond. Grading of the area will start next week if weather conditions permit.

The Fairground pond will be the first in a series of neighborhood skating rinks which the Jaycees hope to build in various school districts of the city.

R T Murphy, Jaycee president said: "The Fairground site will be a starter and we hope to have it in shape for ice skating in January and February. Additional ponds will depend on what develops in our experience at the Fairground," Murphy said

He explained that it was for such projects as the skating ponds that the Junior Chamber is raising funds through its "Best Is Yet To Come" series of monthly professional vaudeville shows.

"We have had two such shows at Senior high school auditorium and, while the attendance has not been up to expectations, the 'samples' of top-flight entertainment given have served to convince people that the programs are really worth while We're looking for a packed house for our next show on Dec. 21 at Johnny Appleseed auditorium," Murphy said.

Coaches His Cagers From Wheel Chair

Paralyzed by polio, a basketball coach in a high school not far from Mansfield is "carrying on" his duties from a wheel chair. And his team looms as a formidable contender for high honors. His story will be told in the sports section of the Sunday News-Journal.

For homemakers who are trying to trim cos' there will be an illustrated article giving tips on "make-them-yourself" Christmas decorations which are attractive, yet inexpensive.

There's good news in store for fishermen. An article on the Sunday outdoors page tells the prospects for fishing next spring at Charles Mill reservoir. The advertising sections will bring gift suggestions galore, plus money-saving offers for careful shoppers.

Nationalist Troops See Escape Hope

Assault Pierces Communist Trap

NANKING—(AP)—Chinese communists encircling the 12th Army group gave ground on the south today before a spirited government column which is trying to pen the jaws of the Red trap.

The relief column is from the Sixth Army group. It is fighting north from the Hwai river line and its anchor of Pengpu, 105 miles northwest of Nankin.

In the battle for North China, however, communist pressure continued, prompting authorities in Peiping to proclaim that the city is facing a critical situation. Citizens were told to prepare for an emergency as the army prepared an escape route.

Associated Press Correspondent Harold K. Milks reported from the front northwest of Nanking that the Sixth Army had won back a number of villages and now is fighting about 22 miles northwest of Pengpu.

This would place the relief forces 22 miles southeast of the 12th, which had 110,000 combat troops when it first was trapped about three weeks ago. The 12th is fighting from strong natural positions.

There was no progress report on the three trapped Army groups farther north. These groups, the Second, 13th and 16th, are trying to fight free of a second trap southwest of the abandoned base of Suchow.

In Washington, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek now has had the conferences she sought with President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall. But just what they accomplished for hard-pressed Nationalist China no one would say.

The Chinese first lady went to tea at Blair House—the temporary White House late yesterday. Press Secretary Eben Ayers said afterward that in a 30-minute meeting in Mr. Truman's study she "stated her case and the President listened sympathetically."

As for the results, said Mme Chiang "the President is the one" to say.

Reds Halter Shop Labor

BERLIN—(UP)—Russia cracked down on restless labor elements in the Soviet zone of Germany today by abolishing factory workers' councils formed under Allied control council law

Functions of the workers' councils were transferred to to communist controlled labor unions, which cut off the last legal means of German workers to express their opposition to Soviet policies.

The move was announced by the Soviet army newspaper Taegliche Rundschau, which said it was made to assure success of the two-year plan in the Soviet zone.

The plan, the paper said, "can only reach its goals if clear conditions and uniform workers' representation are created." The paper admitted that German workers had protested plans to abolish the councils on grounds they were formed under an Allied control council law.

Delegates In Final Session

'Watered Down' Plan Suggested

PARIS—(UP)—The western powers warned the United Nations general assembly in the closing hours of its Paris meeting today that the only hope for peace in Palestine was a watered down Anglo-American plan for a new conciliation commission.

The United States, Great Britain, France, Canada and China implored the assemby to do something to promote a lasting settlement of Arab-Jewish strife.

John Foster Dulles of the United States told the assembly that the conciliation plan would provide the key for a settlement. He said there already had been too much fighting in Palestine and "there must be no more."

Hector McNeil of Great Britain, urging passage of the plan which fell far short of the original British goal, admitted that as now constituted it was "not a strong resolution, and in the circumstances cannot be."

The assembly opened the last day of its Paris meeting at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. EST), faced with a struggle to finish debate on Palestine and settle another half dozen issues before dawn tomorrow.

Delegates planned to adjourn late in the afternoon for a reception given by French President Vincent Auriol and then return to sit all night if necessary to meet the Sunday morning adjournment deadline. The assembly will meet for the second half of this session on April 1 in New York.

Balked in all efforts to settle the east-west crisis, the diplomats hoped at least to be able to take some positive steps on Palestine, approve a $39,000,000 budget for next year and, if possible, vote on the western plan for renewed UN action in Korea.

FEAR LONG DEBATE

Some delegates feared the Palestine debate would carry the assembly far into the night.

A two-thirds vote of the full assembly was necessary to approve the Palestine conciliation plan, opposed by Arab and Soviet bloc states.

Two shining accomplishments, both achieved within the past few days, saved this session from utter futility. One was the declaration outlawing genocide, the mass extermination of racial, religious or political groups. The second was the approval of the universal declaration of human rights last night.

But the cold war between the east and the west remained as far or further from solution than before the United Nations met here three months ago.

The universal declaration of human rights, hailed as a potential international magna charta for millions of men, women and children throughout the world, was approved in late session last night.

Fiend Slays Young Girl

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — A 12-year-old schoolgirl who stayed home to make a cake while her parents went bowling was found stabbed to death in the dining room of her Brushton home. She had been stabbed more than 35 times with a kitchen knife.

Mrs. Joseph A. Kensinger returned home from the bowling alley shortly before midnight and found their pretty, blonde daughter, Carol, lying beside an upset telephone.

A trail of blood from the kitchen to where her body lay indicated that she was attacked while baking the cake but managed to make her way to the telephone in the dining room after the killer fled.

Police said they believed the crime was committed by a sex fiend, although they found no immediate evidence that she had been assaulted prior to the stabbings.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States has demanded that Romania recall two of its top-ranking Romanian diplomats from this country. The American action follows a demand by Romania's communist government for the removal of two American and two British diplomats from Romania. Romania accused them of being linked with espionage and sabotage against the communist regime.

Chinese Use Red, U. S. Arms

Newsman Following Chinese War Front

By GERALD NOZICK

HUOHSINMIAO VILLAGE, Northwestern Pengpu Front (UP)—Chinese Nationalist troops carrying American rifles and supported by Russian-made light tanks swept northwest yesterday through burning villages to relieve a communist-encircled force of 80,000 men.

Advancing against fairly light Red resistance, advance units of the Sixth Army group under Gen. Li Yen-Nien appeared about to join with the encircled troops of Gen. Huang Wei, surrounded in a five-mile area some 30 miles northwest of this village.

(In Nanking, the National Defense ministry announced after Nozick's front dispatch was filed that Li's advancing patrols had established contact with the left-wing of Huang's Twelfth Army group, but said the two main forces had not yet actually linked up.)

I walked the last mile into this village just behind Li's advancing troops, as rifles cracked and an occasional communist mortar-shell fell in the smoking ruins. The American six-by-six truck in which I had ridden from Pengpu, 20 miles to the southeast, had stopped well outside the village because of the Red mortar fire.

But a column of 13 Nationalist tanks rolled through the single main street of the village as I watched. They were light tanks of Russian make, dating back to pre-world war 88 days. Apparently they had been taken by the Nationalists in Manchuria.

HAVE U.S. RIFLES

Li's well-equipped troops, most of whom carried American rifles and plentiful supplies of ammunition, pushed forward briskly. Communist skirmishers were falling back with only token resistance.

In a field at the edge of the village I saw a number of steel helmets scattered on the ground. I jumped over a little stream, and was startled to see a fist sticking from the muddy water. Closer inspection showed the body of a communist soldier lying in the water.

A few wounded nationalists passed me walking toward the rear. But there was no considerable number of casualties on either side. The communists appeared to be fighting only a delaying action.

As I write this, villagers already are returning to their burned and shattered homes. The rifle and mortar fire still can be heard faintly as the advancing Nationalists move on to the northwest, but the villagers pay no attention to it.

Flying back toward Pengpu, we saw Nationalist units advancing on a front of approximately 20 miles, in a three-pronged drive fanning out from the Giaolaochi, a small rail town about 10 miles north of Pengpu.

Li's 39th Army is on the left flank, his Ninth army in the center, and his 54th army on the right. All appeared to be moving rapidly forward. We saw occasional armored cars and a few light tanks.

But for the most part it was an infantry movement — the men with the rifle walking, running, seeking shelter in ditches against communist fire, then moving forward again.

This is a war in which the tide ebbs and flows quickly. Seldom are static lines formed.

And the Chinese peasant—of whom there are so many struggling so desperately only to live—does not seem to care who wins. He leaves his village when one force or another fights through it. He returns even before the embers are cold to begin rebuilding, and to take up the eternal battle for enough to eat.

Miss MacDonald Likes Holiday Season

Started Yule Music Plans In September

By NITA BRANSON
(N-J Church Editor.)

Mansfield's dean of choir directors has been getting ready for Christmas music programs since last September

She is Miss Florence MacDonald, who for nearly 30 years of her musical career has directed Mansfield choirs.

For the past 14½ years, Miss MacDonald has led choir members in music at the St. Luke's Lutheran church, serving as director not only for all Sunday morning services but for the special festivals and events and particularly for the annual Christmas and Easter services. This will be her 14th Christmas at St. Luke's.

Prior to taking over St Luke's choir, Miss MacDonald served for two different periods of five years each as choir director at Grace Episcopal church and for two years she led members of the First Lutheran church choir in sacred music. She also has to her credit a year of substituting at the First Presbyterian church, bringing her total record to 28 years.

Although most women would have retired after so momentous a career as Miss MacDonald has had, she continues to teach voice and numbers among her pupils some of the city's best singers. Among the singers she has taught through the years are several who have achieved national fame.

LIKES YOUNGSTERS

Although Miss MacDonald leads the adults in singing at St. Luke's the choir most dear to her heart is the junior group of about 16 children.

"They are dear children," she says "Annually they sing in the Christmas eve service and that is what we're practicing for now. They sing once each month at the church and for special occasions. The children memorize everything they sing. You can't expect little children to do a thing well, unless it is memorized."

Miss MacDonald likes the traditional Bach music, but her choir members prefer other Christmas music.

"However," she says, "we are doing a number or two from Bach."

After Christmas, she will start on Easter music, so that when the time comes for that church service, choir members will be able to sing well without thinking of the mechanics.

Miss MacDonald doesn't like the "mechanics' of music too much, anyway.

PREFERS 'HEART' MUSIC

"You can't sing well and remember what muscle to use," she declares. "Singing must be a spiritual expression, from the heart. You must feel what you are singing

"If a voice breaks down, it's because the laws of nature have not been followed When a singer violates nature's laws, there is bound to be trouble."

She feels this fact so keenly that she stresses it wherever and whenever she can.

"I like my students to sing naturally and with ease," she asserted.

Among the honors that have come to Miss MacDonald during her long career as dean of Mansfield voice teachers and choir directors is that of being included in the "Who's Important in Music," one of 19 volumes prepared for a listing of prominent Americans, which will be off the press soon.

Air Force Increased

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Berlin airlift has forced a speed up in the air force's expansion, bringing it now to 60-group size.

This development was spotlighted today by an air force order for redeployment of three overseas units. These shifts include the transfer of a transport unit from Japan to Germany and assignment of a fighter wing to the Panama Canal defense system

The new 60-group strength includes nine troop carrier units—one more than had been planned—even by next June 30. On that date the air force is scheduled to have 66 groups of all types—bombers, fighters, transports and other elements.

The new addition to Berlin's food ferry fleet makes a total of five transport wings operating there—apparently on a permanent basis. The air force said the 317th troop carrier wing will transfer "this month" from Tachikawa, Japan, to Germany. About 1,050 more men will be added to the outfit before it arrives in Europe. (The normal strength of a troop carrier wing is approximately 1.500).

Coal Production Down From 1947

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The National Coal association today estimated bituminous coal production for the week ended Dec. 4, at 11,350,000 net tons.

The total was nearly two million tons below the 13,120,000 net tons mined in the corresponding week of last year.

South's Solidarity Counts For Little

In all the fifteen years I have known Harry Truman, I had never seen him in so relaxed a mood nor as confident of himself without being stuffy or arrogant. "Didn't I tell you before you went to Europe last September I was going to win?" he declared as soon as I entered his office. When I remarked how well he looked after the most gruelling campaign ever waged by a presidential candidate, he grinned boyishly and declared that "There's no tonic in the world to build one up like a smashing victory."

"The campaign was a real vacation," he added. "I come over here to the Executive Office from the White House—now from the Blair House—early every morning, see a variety of people, sign from three hundred to four hundred letters, commissions, official documents and other papers a day. I go back to the house around six, go to bed around eleven, and get up the next morning to do the same thing all over again.

That's why I loved escaping from routine and getting out to meet people. I spoke to seven million and they estimate another seven million saw me during the campaign—that makes fifteen million people I came into direct contact with in two months."

Ignoring politely his slightly erroneous arithmetic, I asked him about those he had reached through radio and television. He allowed as how several additional millions could safely be added thereby But it was manifest that those amorphous audiences excited him infinitely less than the seeable, hearable people he knew so well, whether he were campaigning for county judge or president

"The time I knew I was right and was going to win," he went on, revealing for the first time that there had been moments of doubt, "was when I made that trip across upper New York State when it was raining as hard as it is today." He swung around and looked out at the sodden White House grounds and the torrential November rains which blotted out the sky. "When thousands of people stood drenched just to see the train go by with me on it, I knew we had nothing more to worry about"

There was no personal pride in his words. He was talking not of Harry Truman but of a man charged to tell the truth to the people in whom that man had indestructible faith.

"My most important speeches were those at the Philadelphia convention, the ones at St. Louis, Boston, New York, Los Angeles and Chicago. But the greatest meeting of them all was the one in Harlem when 65,000 working people turned out.

The meeting opened with prayer. Then they sang two hymns more beautifully than I had ever heard them sung before. Mrs. Truman was in tears and I was close to them myself—that meeting was so perfectly arranged and moving."

Again he swung around to look out at the rain. "I go back into office indebted to very, very few people. One of them is the Negro—who showed his gratitude and was willing to go down to defeat with me for what I tried to do about civil rights—I'll never forget that." Afterwards newspapermen asked me eagerly if the President had mentioned the innumerable "compromises" which ex-Dixiecrats were eagerly proffering in the press.

The President did not even mention them nor was there the faintest indication that he was affected in the least by them. Instead he asserted with grimly set jaw, "This election proved one thing which may be the most important thing of all for America—that a political party can win without the South." A few days later he amplified this statement to include New York.

I was most impressed by the transformation of an individual from the newly-inducted President with whom I talked in the White House in 1945 into the man on Pennsylvania Avenue in 1948. The first had been bewildered by being catapulted into a job he did not want and which he doubted he could fill as competently as his dramatic predecessor. The man of 1948 had fought and won a single-handed battle against odds more frightening than any other man in human history. But basically one sensed that there had been little material change in the man himself.

"I have been reelected because I made specific pledges to the people which I am going to keep," he said simply. There was no boastfulness, no bluster in his words. He was the same simple, honest man who, having given his word, could not imagine going back on it.

The honeymoon between him and the Congress may be short or long-lived. But none could doubt that the man who has regained occupancy of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue for four more years isn't going to pull any punches He will keep his word to the people.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1948

Drive carefully tomorrow—and let this suggestion carry through the entire holiday season.

It is explained that the uranium featured in toy chemistry sets is in denatured form—so the house may remain intact during the holiday season.

It might be well for schools, departing momentarily from the patriotic fervor of local geography, to teach the simple fact that we seem as queer to other peoples as they seem to us.

At Least a Start Has Been Made

WITH THE United Nations scheduled to adjourn today, the time has arrived to look at the record. At that point, both writer and reader must pause. In actual accomplishment there appears little to look at.

However, we need not be too gloomy at the outlook for the U.N. because of its fruitless record to date. A glimpse at the history of our own Continental Congress in the days of its existence would certainly not have hinted the stature to which legislative government has grown in the United States.

It is something that the nations of the world are sitting down together in at least a presumed effort to settle their differences—even if most of the sitting seems to be interrupted by the Russians jumping up to make wild accusations and impossible demands.

We should remember that now the pleas, the challenges, and the maneuvers are out in the open where they can be judged by the people of the world. In the last analysis, it will be the people themselves who decide whether the U.N. is to continue. Only the force of public opinion can eventually give it power to enforce reasonable decisions.

World opinion can not be organized in a year or two, even in these days of vaunted rapid communication. People must have time to weigh the arguments and the facts. They must readjust their thinking from a national to an international plane.

As the U.N. adjourns our reaction should probably be: "Well, you tried. Better luck next spring."

That 'Incriminate or Degrade' Dodge

IN THE MIDST of all the charges and countercharges flying around in what has become known as the Chambers-Hiss spy case it seems impossible to foresee what the further developments may be, although disclosures to date indicate dangerous subversive activities by some as yet unrevealed —highly placed employes of government.

With a congressional investigation resumed in Washington and a grand jury probe in progress in New York it seems reasonable to expect something factual in the near future, rather than the succession of rumors that have been passed around thus far.

A thing that can scarcely fail to arouse suspicion is the frequency with which the parrot-like formula: "I refuse to answer that question on the grounds that the answer might tend to incriminate or degrade me," has been resorted to by witnesses being quizzed by the House un-American activities committee.

Belief seems justified that an innocent person would not hesitate to frankly and fearlessly answer such questions as were directed toward Henry Julian Wadleigh, former state department employe, during the House committee hearing on Thursday.

As, for instance: "Have you at any time engaged in anything that would smack of espionage against the United States government?"

Or, "Did you ever turn over to unauthorized persons any restricted information whatever?"

Instead of the ringing "No!" that might have been expected in answer to such questions by any patriotic American, Wadleigh is reported to have squirmed nervously and persistently stuck to the coached reply: "I refuse to answer that question on the grounds- -," etc.

That is a constitutional right, provided in connection with requirement for proof of guilt, but it sounds odd if resorted to as a substitute for declaration of innocence.

It is noted also that the complete statement is required in each instance as this seems to relieve the witness of a "contempt of Congress" charge, whereas a mere "I refuse to answer" comes within the "contempt" area.

The important thing now is to not only probe so thoroughly as to learn the identity of those who were responsible for past leaks of secret information to alien agents but also to make sure that nothing of the sort is now going on or would be possible in the future.

Fairness To Margarines Foreseen

MORE DETERMINATION than ever before is appearing in efforts to remove preferential restraints on the sale of oleomargarine and action seems likely within another year by both Congress and the Ohio legislature.

In this state a movement is on foot to either induce favorable legislative action to permit the sale of colored margarines or bring the subject to a vote of the people next November.

On the national level, forces which fought unsuccessfully at the last Congress session to secure repeal of the federal tax on oleo believe they can make it this time as a result of changes in House and Senate.

They contend that only a filibuster by the dairy interests would balk action, and this they do not anticipate.

Only 'Too-Large' Profits Condemned

FURTHER comfort for business leaders, still showing signs of nervousness from reading President Truman's campaign speeches, may have been found in the talk recently made to the National Association of Manufacturers by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. Other members of the official family, and the President himself, have dropped occasional reassurances for business, since the election.

"The time is ripe for a new philosophy of co-operation that will unite Americans in an effort to make the greatest use of our energies and our resources," said the secretary. He also remarked that there is nothing sinful about profit, and pointed out that our private enterprise system cannot exist without it.

He warned, however, that business should carefully consider the fact that too-large profits and too-high prices have an inflationary effect.

Soon it will be LATE Christmas shopping, remember.

Ruhr Coal Mines Being Poorly Managed

THE RUHR, with its vast industrial potential, is the key to the prosperity of Western Europe. But the facts so far show how absurd it is to operate such a region through the divergent ideas of three nations. This applies specifically to the Ruhr coal mines.

Summed up, the facts are these: Britain is too inefficient to operate the mines. France is afraid to let the Germans operate them. And the United States authorities are getting tired of paying not only for British inefficiency but for French fear.

It was not until last year that the United States was able to take a hand in the management of the Ruhr. This was done with the full consent of the British, who realized their incapacity to carry on alone.

In the past months they have been in full agreement with the American idea of restoring the mines to German management. There is a bit of irony in this, since the Attlee socialists have pressed for nationalization in Britain while they have moved toward private management in Germany. And now, thoroughly alarmed at the thought of German recovery, the national assembly of France is trying to keep responsibility out of German hands.

Three and a half years of occupation have brought German mines back to only about three-quarters of wartime production. And this despite a considerably larger number of workers, extra deliveries of food and more incentives for full work.

The genarl manager of the Ruhr mines, one Kost, recently reported that the production of bituminous coal is at 65 per cent of the pre-war figure. Reduced to production per worker, the figure before the war was two tons per shift per worker.

After the first World War, before the advent of great mechanical improvements, it was one ton per worker. Now, it is one and a third tons per worker. Kost points out further that postwar mining has only taken place in the best coal seams.

This is a most shortsighted policy, for it means that 20 per cent of the coal in the poorer seams thus neglected remains in the earth and is definitely lost.

* * *

Inefficient Handling.

DENAZIFICATION has meant that the great majority of former German foremen and mining engineers have not been and are not being used because they were nazis.

The present effort of American and British authorities is to grant a measurable return of the mines to private management. This does not mean the return of the mines to their former owners, but by other incentives to grant larger and larger scope to private management under strict Allied supervision.

American interest in Ruhr coal production is vital. The more coal Germany can export, directly or indirectly in manufactured goods, the less American money will need to be spent in the importing countries.

There is no disposition to minimize the fears of the French. But it can be contended that public ownership can be combined with private management operating under special incentives of profit. This has been done in German electricity production and in much of German transportation even before Hitler.

German know-how is essential to the reconstruction of the complicated mechanisms of the Ruhr Basin. Even American know-how would fail, because American mining problems differ essentially from those of Germany. But the American principle of private management is essential, and that is what Americans are trying to install.

I SEE where the post office department is going to ask Congress to raise the postal rates in almost all classes except first-class mail. I guess the situation in that branch of the government must be pretty bad financially. You just can't change the sizes, shapes and colors of postage stamps every few hours the way the post office folks do and not lose money.

I should think the expense of changing the stamp models from day to day, to say nothing of the lost man-hours, would break anybody.

There will probably be a series of new three-centers to mark the higher rates in other fields. I look for a stamp to honor the various appropriations committees of Congress, a stamp to honor the inventor of color printing and one rushed off as a tribute to SNAFU in the stamp-designing business generally.

Washington Calling

Truman and the Press

By MARQUIS CHILDS

EVERY president in recent times has had his troubles with the press, and the man who will occupy the White House for the next four years is no exception.

Beneath President Truman's smiling jocularity with the reporters who confront him at his press conference is real resentment of the treatment accorded him during the campaign and before.

It is not unlike the resentment which President Roosevelt occasionally voiced in jibes at the working press. This was back of President Truman's statement that there would be no changes in his official family.

He has sometimes been amused, but more often annoyed at the attempts of columnists and others to remake his cabinet. The President felt it was a good opportunity to teach these eager volunteer helpers a lesson.

Prior to the inauguration on Jan. 20, there will be no changes of any importance. But after that date the way is open for some major shifts in top personnel. The President will have had the satisfaction of putting the columnists in their place.

In his press conference he was careful to point out that he had taken a similar stand when he first moved into the White House in 1945. Then, too, the eager press was ready with myriad suggestions and the President squelched all rumors about impending change.

Not long afterward, however, when the speculation had subsided, a whole series of changes occurred. At the request of the President, most of the New Dealers inherited from the Roosevelt cabinet stepped out. Some with good grace, others fuming at being separated from the prestige of high office.

* * *

Loyalty Will Be Factor.

THIS TIME, of course, the situation is different. Truman's family is of his own creation. Loyalty, which is one of the President's deeply engrained traits, enters in.

Particularly is this true when his bosom companions of long standing let him understand that they are staying on out of heartfelt duty and at a great sacrifice of their personal interests.

They may believe it themselves, but the plain truth is that, in the GI phrase, most of them have never had it so good. Separation from public office would mean the dimmest obscurity.

Dpring his career in politics the President has taken a great deal of pounding from the press. That was true all during the days of the Pendergast machine, when Truman was sideswiped by the investigation into corruption and crime even though no amount of investigation could ever put any of the blame on him.

The President and the men around him feel strongly that the press did not present the issues of the campaign as the President voiced them in his speeches.

They believe that far too much emphasis was placed, instead, on the "give 'em hell" side of the Truman crusade.

There will never be anything like the Roosevelt prescription of a dunce cap for reporters asking unwelcome questions. That would not be in accord with the Truman character.

But part of the President's satisfaction in his victory is a sense that he beat the press, too, and he will react strongly against any advice from this source.

To Many Potatoes.

The drop in the 1949 support price for potatoes, ordered by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, finally introduces a note of sanity into that program.

Year after year the guaranty of 90 per cent of parity on spuds has induced farmers to grow more than the country could use and obliged the government to buy and largely destroy the surplus.

The cost has not been confined to the money outlay, which so far this year has been $100,000,000. Worse, in the light of a world food shortage, has been the sinful waste of millions of acres of crop land to grow a food no one was going to eat.—Detroit News.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Chambers 'Hid 'Em In a Pumpkin Shell'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE Hiss-Chambers controversy has reopened congressional and federal grand jury investigations of communist underground activity in the United States.

Six months ago, Whittaker Chambers, now an editor of Time magazine, told the House committee on un-American activities that Alger Hiss, former state department executive, turned over secret official documents to him as courier for a communist undercover ring. That was in 1937 and 1938, Chambers said, before he disavowed communism and took his story to the FBI.

Hiss, now president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, denied the charges. When Chambers repeated his accusation over the radio, Hiss brought a $75,000 suit for slander.

At a pre-trial deposition in Baltimore, Chambers presented 65 documents. Attorneys found them so "hot" they called in the department of justice.

In a Pumpkin Shell.

The un-American activities committee got wind of this and subpoenaed Chambers to produce any other documents. He led investigators to his Westminster, Md. farm at 1 a. m. and pulled rolls of microfilm from a hollowed-out pumpkin secreted behind his barn.

These tiny rolls of microfilm, investigators said, recorded enough top-secret State, Navy and Army documents to make a pile of enlargements two to three feet high.

The committee said it had sworn statements by Chambers that Hiss started bringing state department papers to him after Hiss was introduced to a Russian Col. Boris Bykov, head of Soviet espionage in this country in 1937.

The committee said Chambers accused Hiss of carrying documents home in a brief case for his wife to type, and, in some cases of making handwritten notes of papers he was unable to remove.

Hiss entered a categorical denial.

Sumner Wells, former under secretary of state, told the committee in Washington that publication of the "pumpkin documents" even now might endanger national security.

John E. Peurifoy, assistant secretary of state, said the papers indicated a system of "surreptitious thefts" from departmental files.

As Hiss and Chambers testified before a federal grand jury in New York, the House committee waited impatiently for them in Washington.

At Home

ECA's Second Year.

Paul G. Hoffman, chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration, is fast becoming one of the world's most traveled men. He flew 26,000 miles in the last four months, hopping the Atlantic four times, to see how the European part of the program was progressing.

Hoffman made his fifth transatlantic flight to London on the first leg of a world tour that will take him to China, Korea and Japan.

In London, the ECA boss conferred with a team of American industrial experts in a recheck on how many German factories should be dismantled and shipped out as reparations.

Hoffman is to stop off in Tokyo to survey a proposed new venture, economic aid for Japan. Under military occupation, Japanese production has not recovered.

Doctors Disagree.

The American Medical Association recently decided to raise $3,500,000 to fight President Truman's proposal for national health insurance.

The AMA House of Delegates, controlling body in organized medicine, authorized an assessment of $25 against each of its 140,000 member doctors to underwrite the campaign.

Last week in Boston a noted physician predicted a grass roots rebellion among American doctors against the adamant stand of the AMA.

Dr. Channing Frothingham, twice president of the Massachusetts Medical Society and chairman of the Committee for the Nation's Health, says the AMA official viewpoint is not representative of the membership.

The Boston medico says the Committee for the Nations' Health, which he describes as a national nonpartisan organization of doctors and laymen, will "wholeheartedly support the administration's proposals for a sound, workable, national health insurance program."

* * *

International Crop Agreement

Another attempt to arrive at an international wheat agreement will be made in Washington on January 25.

All nations in the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization are expected to participate.

The proposed pact would replace an agreement negotiated early this year which did not become effective because of failure of the American Congress to act on it.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"Maybe after he gets a couple bottles of milk under his belt he'll look more interesting!"

That agreement, which had the support of President Truman would have covered a five-year period. It would have set up a system of maximum and minimum prices to protect growers and consumers. It would have divided the world wheat market among most of the major exporting nations.

Under the plan the United States would have been assured of annual market of 168 million bushels, with a guaranteed price of $1.85 a bushel for the first year.

Heated Highway.

At Klamath Falls, Ore., the first radiant-heated stretch of highway emerged from its first test satisfactorily. Snow fell heavily in 14 degree cold but the roadway temperature remained at 62 degrees.

Pipes carrying a heated anti-freeze solution were laid in the pavement along a steep grade. The anti-freeze, heated in a natural hot-water well, leaves at 136 degrees and returns at 84. The heated stretch is on a new section of U. S. Highway 97, not yet opened to travel.

Abroad

Rebuff to Russians.

The Berlin elections, which dealt a heavy blow to Soviet hopes for dominating the German capital, will do little to ease east-west tension. In fact, the returns probably will provoke Russian countermeasures in an endeavor to recoup lost prestige.

The blockaded Berliners not only turned out an impressive 86.2 per cent of the electorate Sunday, they added insult to injury from the Soviet viewpoint, by voting overwhelmingly for the Social Democratic Party (SPD) which is militantly Anti-Communist.

Communists had urged Berliners to boycott the election or to spoil the ballots. Western Germans regarded every ballot as a vote, against Russian occupation policies.

Despite strongarm tactics and fist fights during the campaign, the election was relatively calm.

Quotes

President Truman: "My opinion of the un-American activities committee does not mean that the government is not interested in rounding up and prosecuting document spies. . ."

Joseph E. Pogue, vice-president of the Chase National Bank -"The profits in inflated dollars are much smaller than they look. . . . The most effective criterion to apply in the judgment of profits is their adequacy or inadequacy in the process of capital formation."

Paris Session Ends.

The United Nations opened its General Assembly in Paris on September 21 amid a tense atmosphere over the "cold war" between east and west. Now as delegates of the 58-member nations head back home for Christmas, they do not appear nearly as jittery.

The Berlin crisis did not disrupt the U.N. as many had feared. The small nations, led by Argentina, offered their mediation services. After numerous rebuffs, they still are trying.

The General Assembly will reconvene at Flushing Meadow in New York on April 1 to complete action on its agenda.

In Footsteps of Dad

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"I DID the thing my Dad dreamed of, from the day I was born," the young doctor said. "He always hoped he'd have somebody to take his place when 'twas time for him to stop. The day we hung out the new sign, with both our names, he almost wept for joy.

"Yes, Dad's sentimental. He's friends with everybody. He's been going since horse and buggy days, and half the people in the community were born with him standing by. But he's not so old fogey that he can't see a sensible trend to preventive medicine. He says we ought to "teach HEALTH, and keep hospitals free for new babies and other accidents."

"You have studied genetics?" I asked him.

"The theory, yes. My father knows the background of nearly everyone in the whole community. 'Sickness is a habit, maybe it just "feels good to feel bad." Some folks like the attention they get when they're sick-a-bed; others never call a doctor unless there's a baby to be born, or some other major emergency."

"Do you follow the work being done by Friends-of-the-Land " I wondered.

"That's Dr. Jonathan Forman's crowd, isn't it? There's a book, just out, I believe? They're tracing causes and effects from the ground up'?"

"That's right! non-profit, non-partisan society for the conservation of soil, rain and man. Headquarters at 1368 N High St., Columbus, Ohio. Their new book "Soil, Food and Health," is the first permanent record of seven years of annual conferences on Health and Nutrition."

The young doctor jotted down the name and address. "You say they've been holding conferences for seven years?" he commented. "Dad hasn't mentioned them, but I've heard about 'em somewhere. It isn't my aim to always follow along in Dad's footsteps. I mean to do some exploring, on my own."

I gave him my 'evergreen' copy of The Land, (quarterly magazine) and he read aloud the captions on the cover: "Dust In The Eyes of Science," by Paul B. Sears; "A Day With Aldo Leopold," by Alfred G. Etter; "Scratching to Eat," by Stanley Andrews; "People and Food" by O. E. Baker, E. V. McCollum and Firman E. Bear. He laid it on his desk as he answered his telephone. "Emergency, you say? I'll be right over."

Looking back at the sign of the two doctors, father and son, I shared the old man's sentimental pride. It certainly looks swell.

Speaking of Alimony

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DON'T believe in alimony. It's a fair deal if you are old and sick, and it should be compulsory when there are children. But I can't see any sense in a healthy, childless, divorced woman being given alimony when she is perfectly able to go out and get a job for herself.

There are scads of jobs waiting for the gal who is willing to take them. Some of them call for a high degree of intelligence and training, but many of them pay while you learn.

Our greatest need just now is for nurses. Never has there been such a demand for them nor has it ever been so easy to obtain a nurse's job.

If the wife is utterly without funds, a concession might be made in her case until she has received the three years of training which are necessary or a settlement might be paid in a lump sum.

But the woman who will take money from a man with whom she refuses to live is, in my mind, one of the lowest forms of the human species.

Let me emphasize again—in no case should the children be neglected. Whatever the quarrel is between their father and mother, it concerns them alone and it should not be visited upon helpless babies.

And while we're on the subject, let's cast our most contemptuous spitball at the woman who continually belittles her divorced mate or the man who does the same.

It's bad enough for the youngsters to grow up without a father or mother, but it's ten times as contemptible for the father or mother who has their custody to continually cheapen or condemn the absent parent.

Also, we may as well drag out that old saw — "I gave you the best years of my life." Never was there a divorce suit that didn't include that classic bleat and of all nonsense it tops the list.

Nobody ever gave anybody "the best years of her life," least of all a wife. Generally speaking, sister, we have to work darn hard to get our men and twice as hard to keep them.

As for those years we have theoretically spent—piffle. We'd have spent them anyway, if not with this man, then with another.

So if we must have divorce, let's have it fair. Let's cut out the sentimental barnacles of tradition and tell the truth for once. Maybe if we'd face the truth in the beginning we wouldn't have any divorce.

Ups and Downs of Daily Routine Seen Cause of Wives' Complaint

NEW YORK—(AP)—A man comes home from his toil and finds waiting for him there a wife as weary as if she had spent the whole day wrestling an alligator.

When he asks, "How come, Baby?" he is told wanly:

"Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done."

This doesn't clarify the mystery at all. For the average husband is convinced that if there is one person who has an easier life than his boss—it's his wife. He can't understand how she can get so wornout when he has been breaking his own back earning enough money to buy gadgets to make her housework simple.

The good wife cooks and eats breakfast and carries out the dishes to the sink. Then she goes back to bed and lies down for a few minutes.

Up she jumps and goes in and feverishly does the dishes. She flops on the couch and rests. She jumps up and does the beds. She flops on the love seat and makes out a grocery list.

She jumps up to answer the phone. She flops down on the couch. She bounces up to go to the door. No, she tells the man, she doesn't want to buy a four-volume history of Abyssinia.

She flops on the love seat.. she leaps up and buzzes the cleaner around the rug... She sags down on the couch...she's up and pawing at the furniture with a rag...she's back on the love seat...she's up as the phone rings again...she sighs back to the couch to read the shopping ads...she's up to let in the grocery boy...she swoons again briefly on the love seat...

And so the day wears. She's up...she's down...she's down...she's up.

After watching this for six days, I felt I was in a position to offer Frances my findings.

"A motor car burns more gasoline going through a traffic-crowded street, where it has to stop and start, than if it goes on a quiet road," I said.

"Housewives could climb the Washington monument with the strength they waste flopping down and getting up all day long. Either they should stay up longer and get more work done, or else lie down longer and get more rest."

When I asked Frances what she thought of this theory, she said:

"I don't care for your use of the word flop. And as for your theory, all I think it shows is that you are well enough to go back to work."

I guess my theory was a flo—I mean a failure. But it explains why husbands come home tired. They sit at their desks, then get up and go to the water cooler to keep from tackling a problem. They come back, flop in their chair, rustle some papers—and back to the water cooler. They're down...they're up...

No wonder a man comes home weary. He's spent the whole day at the office flopping, too—one way or another.

Wants Additional Information On Secret Red Army In United States

THERE'S A STARTLER in the pamphlet just issued by the un-American Activities Comm. called "Communism and Education." . . . This booklet bluntly informs that an estimated 800 American communists serve as high officers of a secret army "now being drilled to overthrow our government!" That's obvious treason! . . .

What are the names of these Communists? . . . Where and how are they drilling this alleged secret army? . . . If the Comm. has evidence to back its serious charges—it should be given to John Edgar Hoover at once! . . . How about giving it to John Edgar Winchell? Not 800 names—8 will do. So we can tell the people who don't read pamphlets.

Colyumists have frequently been paddled for their chest-swelling reactions when their beats are confirmed. But the veddy dignified American mag is now making scoopee-whoopee: It has taken full page adverts in gazettes to announce that it published an expose of N. Y.'s divorce racket long before it exploded on the front pages. Ho, hum..Happy cockadoodle.

Here's another shot of box-office Winchellicillin for the play, "Bravo!" You won't find many performers turning in such superior pretending jobs as Lili Darvas. (Jes' call me Santa Claus)...

Another drama that makes you wish the scripting was as fine as the greasepainting is "The Young and the Fair." What the theatre needs is playwrights as skillful as players...Readers who quibble when we revive an oldie (pointing out they spotted it in a recent digest) should riffle our files. They'll invariably discover we first used that quip a hundred years ago.

Amazing how one show season is a replica of another: The difference between the total semester's gross thus far as compared with last year—is a mere $130 bux, according to Variety!

For the hot-diggity dep't, there's the slick song tag, "Powder Your Face with Sunshine." Evelyn Knight's recording of it keeps the melody shining...Gee whiz, how can you expect peace between the USA and USSR—when there's even a war between CBS and NBC?

Wailing-Wall Streeters, please note: The Commerce Dep't has reported the sale of manufactured goods in October reached a new all-time high! So stop sobbing into your caviar.

Ohio Employment Takes Large Drop

Hawaiian 'Attack' Undetected

Governor Charges 'Nothing Learned'

HONOLULU. — (UP) — Col. Thomas W. Blackburn, United States air force officer directly responsible for Hawaii's air defense, admitted today that as many as 12 unidentified planes could enter the Hawaiian area unchallenged under peacetime conditions.

He made the statement following an air force announcement from Fort Worth, Tex., that one of its six-engined B-36 bombers flew over Hawaii Tuesday on the seventh anniversary of Pearl Harbor and reports here indicated that Hawaiian military authorities had not detected it.

Blackburn said the island's defense forces "wouldn't challenge any aircraft in peacetime" unless alerted by the state department or the secretary of defense.

The announcement from Fort Worth said the plane, capable of hauling an atom-bomb thousands of miles, dumped a load of dummy bombs in the seas off Hawaii, flew "quite a way" up and down the Hawaiian chain and completed its non-stop, 8,000-mile flight back to Carswell air base, Fort Worth.

Residents of the islands, who still have vivid recollections of the Japanese "day of infamy" seven years ago, indicated immediate concern over the revelation that the giant bomber had entered the islands without detection.

"It just goes to show they haven't learned a thing in seven years, territorial governor Ingram M. Stainback commented. He said his remark was not to be taken as official criticism.

Capt. Peyton Harrison, U. S. Navy Reserve, the governor's aide, said:

"The Komandorskies (Russian islands in the Bering sea) are closer to Hawaii than Fort Worth"

Blackburn, commander of the 81st fighter wing, said "we don't know if we saw the B-36 or not and we wouldn't challenge any aircraft in peacetime."

He said the islands' present defense set-up contemplates a small scale aerial attack but is not prepared for an attack by a single bomber.

"Any single aircraft could come into the islands without being challenged," he said.

Yule Party Thrills 40 F-H Children

The first big thrill of the Christmas season came yesterday to the 40 children in the Friendly House kindergarten.

A party touched off the holiday season for the kiddies who will be excited youngsters for the next two weeks.

Over in one corner of the kindergarten stands the big Christmas tree, all sparkling and sprinkled with colored balls and Christmas gew-gaws.

"Did you see the bird in the tree?" asked Mrs. Mary Gimbel, wife of the F-H director.

Of course they had seen the birdie.

"Yes, ma'am," they shouted in unison.

The 40 youngsters were singing "Silent Night."

"Now for the high note," said Mrs. Gimbel, and 40 small voices sang lustily, not all in tune, but with real Christmas spirit.

The tree will be there until Christmas day. It will highlight for the children their annual Christmas party on Dec. 17 when Santa Claus will bring toys and the play "A Little Child," so well-liked last year, will be repeated.

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, will play Santa, since it's a little early for the Old Gentleman to come from the north pole, and gifts will be presented from the Sappho and Sorosis clubs, the Rebecca Graubaugh P-TA, and the Zeta Rho chapter of Delta Zeta Tau. The sorority's gifts will be mittens for each child.

BIG PARTY DEC. 20

The "big" Christmas party for all Friendly House boys and girls has been scheduled for Dec. 20. In keeping with her annual custom, Ethyl Battin will present a group of pupils in a dance revue.

There will be 350 "treats," and each child will receive candy, an apple and an orange. The treats will be the gifts of the 40 et 8 club and the Hermit club, members of which will personally distribute the gifts.

On Dec. 22 the Optimist club of Mansfield will sponsor a party for the junior Optimist boys of Friendly House at the Richland Recreation Center.

The final Yuletide party will be held Dec. 23 when the gifts donated by members of the Business and Professional Women's club will be given to boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 16 years. This is an annual contribution of BPW members and the gifts are always given to the older children.

Christmas season for Russell and Mary Gimbel probably will wind up about 2 o'clock Christmas morning when the last of the baskets and toys are distributed among Friendly House families. The toys are last-minute gifts contributed by Mansfield merchants who go over their stocks Christmas eve and turn over what is left of the Christmas toy merchandise to the Gimbels.

Toys and baskets are loaded on the big truck and regardless of the weather are delivered in time for Christmas morning treats.

As a result the Gimbels have a delayed Christmas.

National Figures Show Cut

Officials Blame U. S. Restrictions

(By United Press)

Scattered industrial layoffs and production curtailments were disclosed in a nation-wide survey today.

The census bureau reported that the nation's total employment dropped below 60,000,000 persons last month for the first time since last May.

Total employment in November was reported at 59,893,000, compared with 60,134,000 the month before.

A survey by United Press disclosed a sprinkling of layoffs in some areas, but most of them were ascribed to localized conditions. By contrast, many areas reported no curtailment, and some reported increased employment.

The Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation bureau reported that the men's clothing industry in Philadelphia was "shut down tight" because of over-production for the Christmas season. About 2,000 workers were laid off.

Industry sources said there is a normal slump at this time of year, but ordinarily only a couple of hundred workers would be idled.

There were some indications of a slackening in the manufacture of home appliances. At Cleveland, O., the Apex Electric company, which makes washers, ironers and vacuum cleaners, had laid off 300 workers.

BLAME GOVERNMENT

The company said it will lay off 400 more at its Cleveland and Sandusky, O., plants Jan. 1. Company officials blamed renewed government restrictions on installment buying.

At Clyde, O., the Clyde Porcelain Steel corporation, gave temporary dismissal notices to 400 of its 1,500 workers because of curtailed output. The firm makes porcelain for the Bendix Home Appliance company, and said the layoffs were due to a lack of orders.

In the Pittsburgh industrial area, some slackening of coal production was reported. Deep pit commercial mines had cut the work week to five days instead of six or seven.

Officers Retained

All directors and officers of the Richland County Automobile club were re-elected at the 29th annual meeting last night.

Directors, who will serve for the next three years, include: H. G. Brunner, F. C. Small, R. E. Moorhead, C. R. Martin, William McE. Weldon, C. J. Anderson, Carl Stander, C. L. VanDerau and Norman Wolfe, all of Mansfield.

Officers include Stander, president; Harry Sotzen of Shelby, first vice president; Carlton Fernyak, second vice president; John Pierce, treasurer, and Jack Berger, secretary-manager of the Auto club.

Members last night made initial plans for their 30th anniversary celebration next fall. The celebration will be patterned after the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner and will be held in November or December.

Details, plans and the naming of a committee will be made later.

Although their car was demolished, three Mansfield men escaped injury at 2 a. m. today when the auto crashed into the side of a New York Central train at the Bowman road crossing between Shelby and Shiloh.

Yule Mailing Rush Off to Late Start

Postal Workers Move to Armory

the post office will be doubled by the time the peak of the rush is reached. The post office plans to hire 125 extra employes to supplement the approximately 125 regulars. Last year 101 extra employes were used.

Skeleton crews will be maintained on the extra shifts at both the post office and the Armory until the rush begins, Ford said.

As soon as the moving of equipment to the Armory is completed, extra equipment will be moved into the mailing room at the post office. The extra equipment will include 25 additional mailing cases, with 15 city distribution cases instead of the usual four.

Ford again urged Mansfielders to do their Christmas mailing at once. He said a continued delay in mailing could result in congestion of the mail and transportation facilities and delay delivery of Christmas packages and cards.

TIME RUNNING OUT

He said Christmas packages for out-of-state delivery should be mailed immediately if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery before Christmas.

Christmas cards for local distribution should be mailed at least a week before Christmas, Ford said.

He reminded Mansfielders that they can mark all mail, even cards sent at third class rates, "do not open until Christmas" if they are worried about packages or cards arriving too early.

Cards sent at third class rates must not be sealed or contain written messages, however, he added.

He asked Mansfielders to try to anticipate their stamp needs and buy stamps at times when the post office is not crowded. Rush hours at the stamp window come early in the morning, at noon, and after working hours, he said.

Ford said Mansfielders should not wait until they have all their Christmas cards and packages ready before mailing any of them. If patrons bring cards and packages in a few at a time as soon as they are ready, there will be a more even distribution of the heavy mailing, he said

Jaycees Plan Six Ponds

The Jaycees plan to grade vacant lots, circle them with four to six-inch dikes and then flood the areas with water. Flooding must be done in zero or near-zero weather so the water will freeze immediately. When frozen, a smooth skating surface results, providing youngsters with a place to skate in spots too distant from North Lake park and Liberty park, the only skating places now available.

Murphy explained that the Junior Chamber would provide the necessary grading equipment and that its members would take picks and shovels to build the dikes.

Mayor Roy Vaughn, Fire Chief L J. Steel and Sanitation Engineer B. V. Bevier have assured the Jaycees of city cooperation in the program, depending upon the availability of water

The pond will be regularly maintained and the Jaycees will investigate the possibilities of having it flood lighted during the early evening hours Plans are to install ponds in the Bowman, Bushnell Prospect and Brinkerhoff school areas and South Boulevards Murphy said that surveys of these areas will be made to find suitable locations

The Junior Chamber expects much of the cost involved will be paid for out of the proceeds from the Dec 21, "Best Is Yet To Come" show which will feature Charlie Fisk and his orchestra, the Four Dandies barbershop quartet of movie fame, one of the original Radio Rogues and many other top-flight professional vaudeville acts. Presentation of Mansfield's second honor citizen also will be featured

Jaycees in charge of the series of shows are Harold Boals general chairman Richard Sowash ticket chairman, Robert Boals, publicity chairman, Richard Underwood, theater chairman and Gerald Dent coordinator for the Honor Citizen Committee

Tickets may be purchased at Tawse's Pharmacy and Richman's Clothing or from any Jaycee

Teaching Staff Quits At Twinsburg School

TWINSBURG — (INS)— Twinsburg high school was without the services today of Superintendent Glen Powell and 17 other staff members, all of whom resigned after Powell was bound over to the Summit county common pleas court on an assault and battery charge

The school board, which blasted the "relatively small group which had undermined the school system," tabled the resignations last night.

John Hegedish, service state operator, had charged that Powell "slammed" his son, Ronald, against a classroom wall.

Frederick L. Witt, school board president, said that he did not see much chance of the school reopening before the board meeting Dec. 20 unless "there is some pretty strong evidence of community sentiment.

At a special meeting held last night after the hearing in town hall, the board issued a statement saying:

"The board sympathizes with the faculty and fully recognizes the circumstances which impelled its members to take such drastic action in submitting their resignations."

Witt reported that the State Department of Education in Columbuhs has been asked about the legality of the mass resignations but he added that no answer has yet been received.

The board president said that there were no plans now to open school Monday

Affected by the dispute are 458 pupils in the school, 139 of which are in the high school. The remaining 299 range between the kindergarten and the sixth grale

It was charged that Powell assaulted the Hegedish boy in a classroom argument last Monday when Ronald went to the fifth grade room to speak to his sister, Janet.

The youth said that he had been in an argument with a teacher, Mrs. Ophelia Martin, when Powell grabbed him by the arm and "pushed me against the wall in a corner."

When Justice of the Peace Paul M. Booher asked the lad whether Powell struck him, he answered:

"No, but he pushed me"

Powell pleaded innocent and was released on $100 bond, which was posted by his lawyer, Verne L. Harris.

Chelski's 19 Points Lead In 2nd Win

MT. VERNON — Madison high's 'upset experts' notched their second victory of the season here last night as they spilled the host Mt. Vernon team, 59-52.

The lead changed hands several times in the first half but Madison pulled away in the third period and hung on in the fourth.

Ed Chelski was the big man as he racked up 19 points on eight field goals and three foul shots. Chelski was hot on his long shots but also made good on several drive-ins.

DISTL OFF

Joe Distl, although "off" in his shooting was runnerup with 12 points while Jim Brightbill knocked in 10. Gene Riblet counted nine and was the spark of the team in the final minutes.

Each team took turns spurting in the first period as Madison drove ahead 6-0, and then Mt. Vernon made it all look like a mistake by coming back to change the score to 9-6. The Rams took charge again to run the count to 14-9 as the period ended.

Madison pushed its lead to 19-15 in the second period but the Yellowjackets took over again at 22-19, their biggest lead. Joe Distl scored from under the basket just before the half ended to put the Rams back ahead 27-26.

TIED AT 33-33

Mt. Vernon's only other threat was early in the third period when they tied the score 33-33. Again it was Distl who regained the lead for the Rams, and they were never caught again.

Dutch Bader left the game on fouls in the third period, and was replaced by Riblet. Dick Shuff and Dick Thomas both fouled out for Mt. Vernon in the final quarter and the Rams built up their margin with these two boys out.

The Madison reserves dropped their second straight game by a 32-16 count. Keipp led the scoring with seven points.

Southeastern Loop Sets Bowl Barriers

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — (UP) — The Southeastern Conference, for a decade the nation's biggest producer of bowl teams, suddenly cracked down today with a ruling that no member can play in a post-season game more than once every three years.

In addition, the league ordered that member football teams must have a 750 percentage for six conference games in order to accept a bowl bid.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro is the only rider ever to win the Kentucky Derby four times.

Joe Louis Finds Conn Easy As He Points for Charles

CHICAGO—(INS)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, who once boxed Billy Conn into retirement, passed the Pittsburgh kid going the other way for a six-round exhibition interlude, and then declared:

"Ezzard Charles is unquestionably the best heavyweight contender in boxing today."

Louis made that statement in his dressing room last night at Chicago's International Amphitheater, where he jabbed Conn around the premises for six dismal rounds, replete with 14-ounce gloves, a chuckling referee and all of 6,517 jeering onlookers.

Between the fifth and sixth rounds of the bout, in which Louis won a newspaper decision of six to one, with one vote for a draw, the announcer broadcast the result of the Charles-Joe Baksi fight in New York. Charles, as everybody knows, won on a technical kayo in the 11th round.

The first thing Louis talked about in the dressing room, where he bundled up to work up the lather he didn't get in the ring, was Charles. A Louis-Charles title fight, probably in June, seems likely.

As for Conn, who says he is launching a comeback, Louis was charitable to a fault. Not only in the ring, where he did nothing but jab, but after the fight, when he said:

"Billy was a much better fighter tonight than when I beat him for the title in 1946."

Joe, at 220 pounds, said he'd trained harder for last night's brief comedy than for any other "battle" on his current exhibition tour. He said Conn gave him a better fight than any of his other exhibition foes.

Conn, who weighed 186, said "Joe jabs like a mule," which was a compliment.

The minute gathering paid a gross of $31,970 at $7.80 top. Of the net pool of $23,054, about $7,500 went to Louis and about $4,500 to Conn. That left Promoter Harry Mendel the possessor of what, in vulgar parlance, is called the bag. Said Mendel:

"You can't buck Santa Claus."

Delaware Fair Circuit Honor Faces Threat

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Delaware's distinction of being the only county fair on the grand circuit itinerary in recent years may be in danger next week when the grand circuit stewards convene here.

Officials of the Darke county fair (Greenville) and the Crawford county fair (Bucyrus) said they would be on hand to ask for dates.

Directors of the U. S. Trotting association, ruling body of the nation's harness race tracks, convene Sunday with meetings of various association committees. The convention gets down to business Monday and Tuesday, with the stewards meeting Tuesday to set the grand circuit dates for next year.

Corum Feels Charles Lacks Proper Build

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK—(INS)—In a manner of speaking, Ezzard Charles, the sable sharpshooter from Cincinnati, qualified last night for a June championship fight with Joe Louis.

But, in spite of his giving Baksi 32½ pounds last night and still being the first man ever to write a K. O. behind the Pennsylvanian's name in the book, Ezzard managed to continue to look too frail to be a true heavy champ.

His "pantry" is too narrow, long and inviting and when Baksi banged him there, he hurt him grievously.

Ask "Pappy Jersey Joe." Joe knows. Walcott, by the way, was present last evening and somewhat worried over Charles' or rather Mintz's, pre-fight ballyhoo about claiming the title if Ezzard should stop Baksi.

"I'm still the number one contender for that title, Mr. Corum," said Joe. "I feel I've earned that spot in my two fights with Louis, and I hope you'll help me to keep the fans reminded of it."

Which is true. I don't know how Louis would feel about fighting the elusive dancer from Jersey a third time. But you can't eliminate a man simply because his style is not suited to that of the titleholder, or even because his style is calculated to make the title fight a dull one.

Shelby Scores After Whistle To Win, 41-40

By JOHN PATRICK

SHELBY—A last second field goal by Harold Onie gave the Shelby Whippet Basketeers a 40 to 41 victory over a scrappy Bucyrus team last night before 1,000 rabid fans in the Shelby High School gym.

Aftr the first quarter which found Shelby leading 12 to 8, Bucyrus came back and tied up the ball game 21 to 21 at the half.

The third and fourth quarters were a frenzy of action and sound as each team fought to outscore the other, accompanied by the roar of the crowd when their team forged out in front. At no time in the ball game did either team manage to get more than four points ahead of the other. And in the third and fourth quarters it was a see-saw back and forth most of the time with just a one point difference.

With a half a minute remaining in the ball game and Bucyrus leading 40 to 39 Clark was fouled. His attempt rolled off the hoop and was recovered by Utz who passed to Onie. With the seconds ticking off it appeared to the crowd that he would never get the shot off. Finally in desperation Onie shot for the basket and as the ball left his hand the final horn went off. The ball banked off the back board and split the net for the final and winning score.

ONTARIO—Ontario swept away all doubts of its potential power here last night as it won as it pleased over visiting Lucas, 48-23.

High-scoring Howard Sunnucks was held to five points but the other members of the host squad took up the slack. Jackson Perry led the way with 14 points while Charley Hammer had 10, and played a great defensive game.

Coach Dick Casad's "wonders" drove to a 17-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and were never in trouble thereafter. Lucas did not score a single field goal until seven minutes of the third quarter had elapsed.

It was the fourth straight victory for Ontario, and the third in league play. The Ontario reserves also won, 35-16, as Kenny Gabor dropped in nine points.

Tipper and Schmitt Are Surprise Stars

By CHARLEY STINE

Cleveland Collinwood proved tougher opposition than expected for three quarters last night, then went to pieces as Senior high racked up its second basketball victory of the season, 49-36.

A capacity crowd jammed the Mansfield gym to see the unveiling of two new stars. Ed Schmitt and Howie Tipper—a pair of unheralded substitutes, became the "men of the hour" just when they were needed most.

Schmitt got a chance to start only because of the injury to Willie Fowler and Tipper came on in the second quarter after A. C. Jenkins had committed his fourth foul. Yet Schmitt shared scoring honors with Jimmy Anderson at 13 each, and Tipper was the defensive leader, while dropping in ten counters.

SHIBINSKI WATCHED

Norb Shibinski was kept well bottled up in the center spot while Paul Ferguson played his usual good floor game but failed to hit the basket. Eleven men broke into the lineup but only seven of them scored.

Mansfield outscored its taller opponents in each period, but the margins were so small that the outcome was in doubt until half way through the last quarter.

Anderson scored the first five points for the Tygers in a see-saw opening period. Cleveland took the lead at 3-0, Anderson tied it up, lost it at 4-3, then took it back at 5-4. Collinwood tied at 5-5 and 8-8 but the Bengals went ahead shortly before the quarter ended on a rebound shot by Shibinski.

Baskets by Tipper and Shibinski and Ferguson's foul built the lead to 15-11 but big Sam Palumbo counted five straight points to put the visitors back on top. Tipper came through with a one-hander to give Mansfield permanent possession of the lead. He added a free throw and Schmitt dunked another one-pointer to make the count 19-16 at the half.

Schmitt slipped in the first five points of the second half and the Tygers were off to the races. Collinwood crept within four points at 33-29, then went completely to pieces as they tried all sorts of wild "hope" shots.

The victory kept the Tygers undefeated against high school opposition although they lost to the Alumni in an exhibition game at the Boosters clinic last Tuesday. They will be host to Tiffin Columbian next Tuesday and then journey to Bexley on Friday night.

The Senior Reserves also won although they had a slightly closer call. They trailed 13-11 at the half and had to make an uphill fight to come out on the long end of a 28-25 score. Fidler led the scoring with 25 points.

Pro Football Title Frays Grab Spotlight

NEW YORK —(INS)— Two divisional championships in pro football will be decided tomorrow.

The only game in the All-America Conference will present the unusual spectacle of two contenders clashing on the same field on consecutive Sundays.

In this one, at Baltimore, the Colts and Buffalo Bills will fight it out for the eastern title. Last Sunday in the final scheduled game of the regular season, Baltimore tied the Bills for first place by beating them for the first time in two years.

The unpredictable Bills might win this one, despite their inept showing last week. In any event, to the winner will go the doubtful privilege of meeting the mighty Cleveland Browns for the league championship.

In the National Football League, all eyes will be on Chicago, where the Bears and Cardinals, tied for first place, will battle for the western title.

The Bears are 6½ point favorites.

If a bruising game results, as seems likely, this will be all to the advantage of the Philadelphia Eagles, the eastern titlists who will clash with the Chicago winner for the league championship a week from tomorrow.

The clash between Washington and the Giants in New York will make up in tradition and aerial fireworks what it lacks in importance as far as the standing of the clubs is concerned.

The game between the Rams and Pittsburgh Steelers at Los Angeles rounds out the day's schedule.

Stranahan Gets 5-Stroke Lead

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — The field was reduced to 60 pros and 10 amateurs in the $10,000 Miami Open golf tournament today with Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., five strokes ahead of the pack.

Stranahan matched his 66 of opening day with a 35-31—66 yesterday for a halfway total of 132 over the 6,735-yard par 70 Miami Spring course where this 25th annual event is being played.

Defending Champion Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., who won last year with a record-tying 267 for the 72-hole test, was one of three tied for second place. He added a 67 to his opening round of 70 for 137. Tied with Demaret were Tony Penna of Delray Beach, Fla., and Herman Keiser, Akron, O.

Slammin' Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the pre-tourney favorite, matched his 69 of opening day and was tied with Steve Warga jr., Miami, winner of the 1944 event; Claude Harman, Palm Beach, Fla., and John Palmer, Badin, N. C., at 138.

Of the 99 players in the National Hockey League, all but eight were born in Canada.

Player Deals Shape As Major Moguls Gather

CHICAGO—(INS)—Enough player deals to send a cardplayer to the big house for life were cooking in the lobby of Chicago's Palmer House today as major league baseball men gathered for their annual winter meeting.

With the exception of the Happy Chandler-Leo Durocher hearing, which is to take place Tuesday, the meetings themselves may not carry half so much interest as the trading before and during the caucus, opening officially on Monday.

The Browns' Bob Dillinger, third baseman who led the American league in number of hits last season, still was Apple Number One in the eyes of rival American League clubs. Hottest on his trail now were the Cleveland Indians, who reportedly would go as far as to offer their own Ken Keltner in exchange.

Steve Souchok, a piece of New York Yankee property who plays first base, was supposed to be en route to the Chicago White Sox, who were offering Outfielder Dave Philley, or Second Baseman Don Kolloway.

The New York Giants still had Catcher Walker Cooper, First Baseman John Mize and Outfielder Bobby Thomson on the block, and wanted pitchers for all three. St Louis, Cincinnati and Brooklyn were supposed to be interested.

The Boston Red Sox were eyeing Early Wynn, Washington hurler.

Cliff Fannin, St Louis Browns moundsman, also was a piece of attractive bait, as was his pitching teammate, Fred Sanford.

Then there always was the Eddie Waitkus-Joe Hatten shuffle between the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, and the Detroit Tigers still wanted a second baseman.

The Chandler-Durocher hearing will determine whether Lippy Leo, as Giant manager, or any of his cohorts, dickered with Coach Freddy Fitzsimmons of the Boston Braves during the 1948 season. If evidence of "tampering" is forthcoming, Chandler has said "serious consequences" — which conceivably might mean Durocher's second suspension in less than two years—could be forthcoming.

Fitzsimmons joined the Giants as a coach shortly after the close of the last campaign.

Legislatively, the majors are prepared to rap their minor league friends for passing anti-television legislation at their own meeting, which ended in ten below zero cold at Minneapolis yesterday. The minors are against television, and the majors, at the moment, are for it. That is the whole story.

Last action taken by the minors was to raise the salary of their president, George Trautman, from $25,000 to $30,000 and to name Baltimore officially as site of the 1949 convention.

Letters Reveal Writers' Characters

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

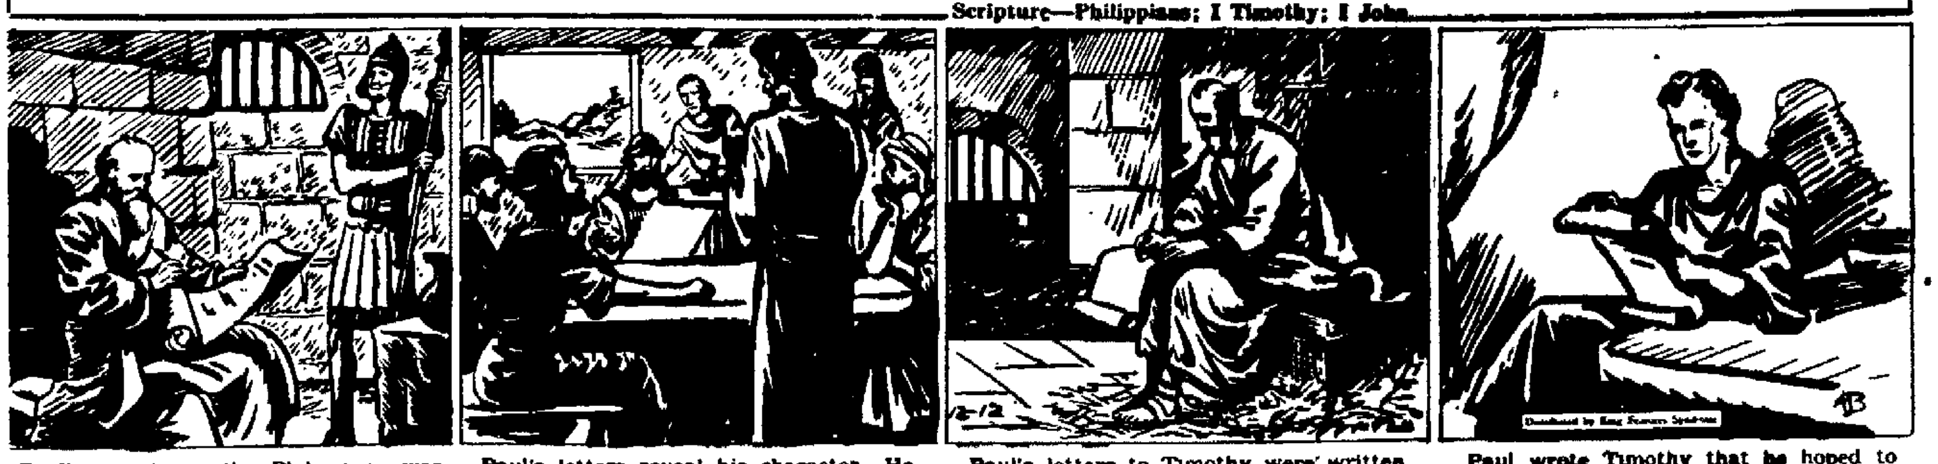
Scripture—Philippians; I Timothy; I John



Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Paul's epistle to the Philippians was written about A D 62, while he was in prison, and had received a gift from his friends in Philippi He wrote it to thank them

Paul's letters reveal his character He urges his friends to be glad, to rejoice in the Lord, to test all things, and finding them good and virtuous, to hold to them.

Paul's letters to Timothy were written about A D, 64-5, shortly before his martyrdom. They are full of affection, for Paul looked upon Timothy as his own son in Christ Jesus.

Paul wrote Timothy that he hoped to come to him shortly, and to exhort the rich that the love of money is the root of all evil.

Jones to Keep Business Site

The E. E. Jones Piano and Furniture House, 146 Park avenue west, is going to remain at that address.

John S. Jones reported that a term lease has been negotiated with G. H. Shrack. In October no agreement could be reached and Jones was forced to hold a special liquidation sale to reduce his stock to allow him to move into smaller quarters.

This week, an arrangement was worked out to permit the 50-year-old-store to continue to do business at the same address.

Church Sets Observance

Observance of Universal Bible Sunday for most of the Protestant churches of the nation will be accented with a "Bible Night" at the First United Presbyterian church tomorrow.

Rev. Charles L. Shook has planned to show a 45-minute moving picture in color, entitled "At Work with the Word," and display a colorful set of scripture exhibit cards from the American Bible Society.

According to Rev. Shook, the Bible riddle, "What prophet who was neither among the living or the dead did 50 men search for?" will be answered in his sermon.

The American Bible society, which has distributed more than 9,000,000 copies of the Bible, is quoted as saying of the observance. "Universal Bible Sunday is traditionally observed early in December. On Christmas Day we observe the coming of the Word Incarnate. It is entirely appropriate a few weeks prior to the nativity to give thanks for God's gift of His Word, without which we would have no record of the life of Our Lord. Deprived of the Book, Christmas would lose its meaning."

Members of the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church also will observe Bible Sunday tomorrow, when Rev. John C. Melchert, the pastor, preaches on the theme, "The Vitality of the World's Greatest Book."

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The state department rejected today the contention of ousted Venezuelan President Gallegos that a U.S. military attache aided the military group that overthrew him.

Gallegos, in Havana, Cuba, "demanded" that the U. S. explain the presence of Col. Edward F. Adams at the Caracas army barracks during the revolt.

The state department conceded that Adams visited the Venezuelan ministry of national defense the day of the revolution. It said, however, his purpose was to inquire about an air attache at Caracas.
